

Biography: (English and French)

Asma Chahed is a Ph.D candidate and a teacher at the Faculty of Arts and Humanities of Sousse. She is an M.A. graduate in American literature. The title of her M.A. thesis is "A study of Race and Racism in William Faulkner's Light in August". Her major interests include race, racism, identity issues and marginalized people, violence against blacks as well as the representation of mulatto and black figures in historical and literary texts. Her Ph.D thesis is entitled "Representations of the Mulatto in William Faulkner's Fiction: Selected Works". She participated in many international conferences.

-Asma Chahed est une doctorante et enseignante à la Faculté des Lettres et des Sciences Humaines de Sousse. Ses intérêts majeurs sont la race, le racisme, les questions d'identité, les personnes marginalisés et la violence contre les noirs. Sa thèse de doctorat est intitulée : "Représentations des hybrides dans les romans de William Faulkner : œuvres choisies". Elle a participé à de nombreuses conférences internationales.